James Sutton Lewis.

One of the venerated citizens of Warren County has been for many years a resident of Lenox Township, where in earlier years he was a potent factor of its agricultural activities and where he still owns a valuable farm.

He was born near Baskin Ridge, New Jersey, February 10, 1837, a son of Levi D. and Eliza (Sutton) Lewis, natives of New York, who in 1838 drove overland to Springfield, Illinois and until 1849 the father was engaged in farming in Sangamon County. In that year he crossed the plains to California driving oxen and walking all the way, the trip consuming seven months. After his arrival he obtained employment which necessitated his working in water, which resulted in his being taken sick and he died three months later in February 1850 when he was 48 years of age. His widow survived him many years passing away in Sangamon County in 1862, aged 82.

When he was 12 or 13 years old James S. Lewis came to Warren County and worked for his board and clothes for two years. For the subsequent 8 years he worked by the month for Cousin Zephaniah Lewis and then renting land he began farming for himself in Lenox. In 1862 he rented a farm on section 36, Lenox Township and a year later he bought 80 acres of this farm and kept adding to it until he now has 170 acres in his homestead and 80 acres north of the farm but in the same section.

He was actively engaged in farming until the past few years. On January 26, 1921 his residence was destroyed by fire and he lost the greater portion of his household goods and his daughter lost all her possessions except the clothes she was wearing.

On March 27, 1862 James S. lewis married Mary Smith who was born in Rockingham County, Virginia. on May 16, 1836 a daughter of David R. and Elizabeth (Keller) Smith, natives of Virginia.

Mr and Mrs Lewis became the parents of the following children:

Elizabeth-
David----Effie Brooks
Anna-- --- died 1919
Jane-
Levi D.--- Stella Rice
Frances---- James Walter Ingram

Mrs. Lewis died January 31, 1905 and her loss was deeply deplored by her family and friends.

Mr. Lewis was a Republican and served as a school Treasurer, Assessor, & Supervisor for several terms in each office. He was a consistant member of the Baptist Church.

The eduaational training of Mr. Lewis was confined to that afforded by the common schools, but while attending one in Sangamon Cty. he had the privilge of having as a school mate a son of Abraham Lincoln and he attended the same church In which the future president and his family worshipped. When Mr. Lincoln ran for president in 1860, Mr. Lewis, Delos Ogden and Joseph Wellington hitched 10 horses to a wagon and took 33 young ladies to a Republican Mass meeting at Monmouth. After Mr. Lincoln's election Mr. Lewis and a cousin went to Springfield to offer congratulations and were cordially received by Mr. Lincoln. During the interview Mr. Lewis sat in a chair sent to the president from Wisconsin that was compased of 33 kinds of wood. Mr. Lincoln's sister at one time was Mr. Lewis's sunday school teacher. Would space permit many other extreme but interesting reminiscences of Mr. Lewis could be given not only of Mr. Lincoln and his times but the events in the history of Warren County in many of which he was an active participant. In every thing he has undertaken Mr. Lewis has put the best of himself into his work and has not only won material success but won and held approval of all his neighbors and friends.

(I dont know what year this account was written.)

Mary Ingram And Roy Fox Married

Mary Ingram and Roy Fox stole a march on their friends Saturday evening, when they were quietly married at Burlington, Ia. They were accompanied by Vada Ingram and Arthur Forbes. The minister of the Presbyterian church performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Fox is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ingram of near Berwick. She attended the public school and two years at Monmouth high school. The past two years she has been with her family and active socially in the Berwick community.

Mr. Fox is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fox of Cameron. He is employed as an electric welder for the Burlington railroad.

The young people will make their home in Burlington.

...ries.

Friends of Miss Mary Ingram were surprised to hear of her marriage with Roy Fox on Saturday at Burlington. They were accompanied by the bride's sister, Miss Vada Ingram and the groom's cousin, Arthur Forbes. The happy couple left for Golden, Ill., Sunday afternoon, where they will make their home, Mr. Fox being employed by the C. B. & Q. at that place.

Their many friends wish them success in their new home.

Cleek-Ingram.

At high noon on Saturday, Jan. 28, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Forbes of Cameron, Miss Anna Frances Ingram and Mr. Frank Cleek of Berwick were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. P. Ingram of Adrian, Ill., in the presence of Rev. Powell of Terre Haute and Mr. and Mrs. Forbes.

Mrs. Cleek wore a becoming gown of hyacinth blue triple sheer crepe, fashioined with a long skirt and short puff sleeves, and harmonizing accessories.

Following the ceremony a delicious two-course luncheon was served by Mrs. Forbes, sister of the bride.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ingram of Cameron and is a talented musician. Mr. Cleek is a mechanic.

The bride and groom left Saturday evening for Macomb to visit the groom's parents.

..If the prodigal boy had been a girl,
how would the story have run.
Would the fatted calf have been killed as quick, for a daughter as for a son?
Would the welcome back have been the same, would the ring and shoes and all;
Would the robe have been given the daughter, had she been the one to fall?
The world applauds the father for receiving the wandering son,
But turns its back to the daughter when she is the erring one;
There seem to be two standards of morals for maid and man.
The sins of the boy are forgiven,
but the girl is under the ban.

Obituary Published: 2003-05-11 in The Joplin Globe
Eugene C. Ingram
Eugene Clifford Ingram passed quietly from this life at 9:45 p.m. on May 8, 2003, after combatting Lou Gehrig's disease for the past five years.
He was born Feb. 4, 1926 to Clifford and Ada Peasley Ingram in Terre Haute, Ill.
He was married to Marilyn Ruth Louden on Aug. 1, 1948. She survives, along with two sons and their wives, Mark and Traci Ingram of Purdy, Mo. and Chris and Paula Ingram of Springfield, Mo.; one granddaughter, Terra; three great-grandchildren, Keifer, Katrina and Seamus. Also surviving are a sister, Mary Johnson of West Burlington, Iowa; a niece, Debra Louden LeVey of Monterey,Calif., who is formerly of the home; and dozens of other nieces and nephews.
"Gene" as he was known and his father operated Clifford Ingram's Garage in Terre Haute, Ill. before he moved to Carthage in 1962 where he and his family founded and operated Carthage Airways. In 1973 he sold the company and joined Legget & Platt where he founded their aviation department with one airplane, a Cessna 310. Under his guidance the flight department managed to keep up with and support the company's success and growth, graduating into turbo-props and eventually business jets, operating three of them at the time of his retirement in February 1996. His flying career had begun in 1944, and at his retirement he had more than 23,000 flying hours, having flown over 100 different types of airplanes. He possessed an Airline Transport Pilot certificate with ratings to fly single and multiengine airplanes and jets and also served as a designated pilot examiner for the FAA, conducting 1,852 flight tests for them. He was a member of the Quiet Birdmen Society, and a charter member and former governor of the Joplin Hangar. After his retirement he often commented that what he missed most about his busy flying career was not seeing the hundreds of friends he had made around the U.S.A., with whom he visited on his trips.
Gene was a 33rd degree mason, a member of the United Methodist Church in Carthage, a member of the National Muzzle Loading Rifle Association and a H.O.G. member. He had and loved many activities outside of aviation and mastered the skills of each. Among these were fishing, tennis, billiards, gun building, furniture building, antique automobile restoration and motorcycling. He handcrafted many exquisite muzzle loading firearms and pieces of furniture for his family and friends; completely restored a 1919 Ford Model T; and toured on his Harley-Davidsons all over the U.S.A. and Canada.
He will be missed by his hundreds of friends and family.
A memorial service will be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday, May 13 at Ulmer Funeral Home in Carthage.
Donations can be made to Community Hospice or United Methodist Church of Carthage, Mo. in care of Ulmer Funeral Home

The Twenty-Third Psalm

The Lord is my Shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: He leadeth me beside the still waters: He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake..Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: Thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over..Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: And I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever...

ID theft

Stacy and Tom -

I tried to e-mail this Obituary of Beverly Ingrow Cadwell to you but evidently it didn't go because I got a Message from the "Postmaster" in my messages.

This was in our local paper yesterday. Just thought you might like a copy.

Take Care!
